

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This decision to force this airing is particularly suspicious in light of the financial support by the Sinclair CEO of the Bush-Cheney re-election. The public interest is not being served by this blatant abuse of what should be free public air waves.